(54) SYSTEM AND METHOD FOR INFORMATION TRANSFER

(57)Abstract:

PURPOSE: To provide an information transfer method and system between a plurality of buses.

CONSTITUTION: Between a plurality of first bus devices, information is transferred through a first bus. Between a plurality of second bus devices, information is transferred through a second bus. Between the first and second buses, information is transferred through a logic means. Since the logic means is used, the first bus device can operate in accordance with the waiting state of the second bus device for certain operation while the first bus device waits for another operation on the second bus.
